SPC to host 22nd Annual Camp Bluegrass

LEVELLAND – South Plains College will host the 22nd Annual Camp Bluegrass July 20-25. More than 180 participants are expected to attend the six-day residential camp for bluegrass musicians.

Bluegrass legends Eddie Adcock and Roland White will highlight the camp. Adcock will teach banjo classes and White will teach mandolin classes.

The camp is designed to improve individual skills of banjo, guitar and mandolin players. Also, classes will be provided for fiddle, Dobro, bass and vocals. Classes are conducted in the Commercial Music building with nightly faculty performances in the Tom T. Hall Production Studio.

A special youth track is available for young musicians. Beth Mead, banjo instructor at SPC, will work with young players to form ensembles. Young students will attend regular classes (students younger than 12 years of age should be accompanied by an adult) during the day and a special band class each afternoon Monday through Thursday. The youth ensemble will perform in the Friday morning student concert.

Instructors for 2008 Camp Bluegrass are Adcock, Alan Munde, Bill Evans and Gerald Jones, banjo; Ed Marsh, fiddle; Joe Carr, Steve Smith and White, mandolin; Adam Granger and Tim May, guitar; Bill Honker, bass; Steve Williams, Dobro; and Dee Dee Wyland, vocals.
