SPC slates celebration for Fine Arts Department

LEVELLAND – South Plains College will host a weeklong celebration in recognition of the renovations of the Fine Arts Building Nov. 9-20. The festivities will conclude with a special dedication ceremony for the Christine DeVitt Fine Arts Center and the Helen DeVitt Jones Theatre for the Performing Arts.

All events are open to the public. However, because seating is limited to 220 in the Theatre, participants will need to request a ticket to attend the Gala Performance and Dedication Ceremony on Nov. 15.

The festivities will begin with an exhibit from 2 to 4 p.m. Nov. 9 featuring the work of Nancy Carr, a former SPC art student in the DeVitt Fine Arts Center. A reception will follow in the foyer.

Students and SPC Fine Arts faculty members will exhibit studio art metals and jewelry in the Jewelry and Metals Studio in Room 127. The exhibit will run through Nov. 15.

On Nov. 11, the SPC Jazz Band and Symphonic Band Joint concert is set for 7:30 p.m. in the Jones Theatre. Admission is free.

On Nov. 13, the SPC Concert Choir and Brass Choir concert is slated for 7:30 p.m. in the Jones Theatre. Admission is free.

The formal dedication of the DeVitt Fine Arts Center, Jones Theatre and the Vickie Wilks Wisian Recital Hall is set for 7:30 p.m. The Fine Arts Music Department will present a faculty recital during the evening's dedication. A pre-dedication reception will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the DeVitt Fine Arts foyer.

The celebration will conclude with the SPC Chamber Ensemble Concert in the Wisian Recital Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 20.
