Reese Center to host Open House for manufacturing industry

REESE CENTER – South Plains College Reese Center will host an Open House for Building 6 at 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday (Aug. 15). Lunch will be provided.

Participants at the Open House will be given information regarding two new courses that will be offered at SPC. The courses will allow the manufacturing industry to view the training opportunities for existing employees and hiring potential of SPC students.

Billy Tackett, instructor in electronics technology, will teach the courses. The course will be offered primarily to credit students and then open to individuals who need continuing education units in manufacturing.

MSSC Production Technician Certification will provide instructional information regarding student preparation to attain Manufacturing Skills Standards Council certification. MSSC Production Technician Advanced Certification course will be taught in spring 2009.

Both courses focus on the fundamentals in manufacturing environment including safety protocols, quality practices, processes, production and maintenance awareness.

For more information, call Diane Ganze, coordinator of ACT Center/Workforce Development at 806-716-4885 or email dganze@southplainscollege.edu .
