SPC Automotive Program to receive Pontiac Grand Am

LUBBOCK – South Plains College’s Automotive Service Technology Program at the Byron Martin Advanced Technology Center will received a 2002 Pontiac Grand Am donated by Frank Brown Pontiac. The car will be unveiled during a press conference at 10 a.m. Monday (March 30) in the Service Department at Frank Brown Pontiac, 5802 Spur 327.

The donation from Frank Brown marks a continuation of support of the SPC Automotive Program, said Gary Ufford, program coordinator and associate professor of Automotive Technology at SPC. With the car, students will get more hands-on experience on a newer model car, he said.

Frank Brown has supported SPC with donations of tools and other vehicles as well as serving on an advisory board for the program, Ufford added.

“This vehicle donation will allow all of our students an opportunity to train on advanced technology and make them better prepared for the workforce,” Ufford said.
