SPC to host Transfer Advising Fair 2009

LEVELLAND – South Plains College will host Transfer Advising Fair 2009, Get the Advice without the Drive, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Feb. 11 in the Sundown Room of the Student Center.

The event, which features recruiters from colleges and universities, is designed to provide SPC students with information about application deadlines, programs, scholarships, honors programs, internship opportunities and career. Students from all SPC campuses are invited to attend.

“Having representatives from these institutions on campus with information for SPC students who want to attend a four-year school will help make their transition easier,” said Brandon Awbrey, SPC academic transfer counselor.

Interested students can inquire about the minimum grade-point-average required for majors, where to send transcripts, scholarships and financial aid as well as other information on programs and majors offered.

The universities represented will be Angelo State University, Eastern New Mexico University, Hardin-Simmons, Sul Ross State University, Lubbock Christian University, Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Texas A&M Plant and Soil Sciences and Wayland Baptist University.

For more information, contact Awbrey at 806-716-2362.
