SPC Automotive Service Technology to host Dyno Day March 7

LEVELLAND – South Plains College Automotive Service Technology will host Dyno Day March 7 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the SPC Automotive Technology Building.

Dyno Day is designed to test a car's horsepower and torque on SPC's MD Mustang Dynamometer. The event is sponsored by Leader Signs, McWhorters, United Supermarkets, O'Reilly Auto Part, Autozone, Smith South Plains Ford, R&K Chevrolet, Xtreme Accessories, Matco Tools, Hills Hot Rods and Thunder on the Plains.

For a $40 donation to the SPC SkillsUSA Chapter, participants will receive two full pulls. For a $50 donation, participants can compete in the dyno drags. For a $75 donation, participants will receive the two pulls and compete in the dyno drags.

Prizes will be awarded to the top three finishers in the dyno drags depending on participation. Door prizes also will be awarded.

All participating vehicles must pass a tech and safety inspection to run. Interested individuals will need to call in advance to reserve a tentative time to run a car or light truck.

For more details, contact Gary Ham, program coordinator and instructor in automotive service technology, at (806) 716-2296 or email gham@southplainscollege.edu.
