Student Code of Conduct Policy: Any successful learning experience requires mutual respect on the part of the student and the instructor. Neither instructor nor student should be subject to others' behavior that is rude, disruptive, intimidating, aggressive, or demeaning. Student conduct that disrupts the learning process or is deemed disrespectful or threatening shall not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action and/or removal from class.

Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Disability Statement: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. The student must have a copy of the receipt and the book has to be in stock at the competition at the time of the price match.

The South Plains College bookstore will happily price match BN.com & books on Amazon noted as ships from and sold by Amazon.com. Online marketplaces such as Other Sellers on Amazon, Amazon's Warehouse Deals, fulfilled by Amazon, BN.com Marketplace, and peer-to-peer pricing are not eligible. They will price match the exact textbook, in the same edition and format, including all accompanying materials, like workbooks and CDs.

A textbook is only eligible for price match if it is in stock on a competitor's website at time of the price match request. Additional membership discounts and offers cannot be applied to the student's refund.

Price matching is only available on in-store purchases. Digital books, access codes sold via publisher sites, rentals and special orders are not eligible. Only one price match per title per customer is allowed.

Note: The instructor reserves the right to modify the course syllabus and policies, as well as notify students of any changes, at any point during the semester.

If this policy is violated the student will receive an F for the assignment and will be dropped with an F. For more details on what is considered cheating, see the South Plains College catalog.

Class Cancellation

In the event of the class being canceled by the school, the student will be responsible for the lecture material. The class will continue on the calendar presented. All information needed is on Blackboard and should be accessed by the student.

Withdrawal

If you wish to withdraw from this class for any reason, you must initiate the appropriate steps on your own. To withdraw from this class, you will need to go to the Admissions and Records office either on the Levelland campus or the Reese Center campus, and fill out a drop notification form, and pay $5. The drop form can be obtained online in MySPC, under the Student Forms and Tools link. Please be aware that SPC may not permit an undergraduate student to drop a total of more than six courses (including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education) if the student enrolled in college for the first time during the Fall 2007 academic term or any term subsequent to the Fall 2007 term.

Email Policy

All students at South Plains College are assigned a standardized SPC e-mail account. Although personal e-mail addresses will continue to be collected, the assigned SPC e-mail account will be used as the official channel of communication for South Plains College. The Student Correspondence Policy can be found at www.southplainscollege.edu. To access the SPC student e-mail account, log in to MySPC and click the SPC Google Mail option under Campus Bookmarks. (Copied from SPC Student Guide)

Since all students have an assigned SPC email, the instructor will only acknowledge, respond, and send emails to your assigned SPC email. This ensures all correspondence from the instructor is received by the intended recipient.

"I forgot to make a back-up copy of my brain, so everything I learned last semester was lost."

Homework

Achieving success in this class will require giving regular effort outside of class, meaning doing homework. If you plan to be successful in this class, expect to spend a minimum of 8 to 12 hours outside of class every week maintaining or increasing your math skills. Homework is a planned practice for students to master the skills taught in class and needed in higher-level mathematics courses.

Every student is encouraged to do homework. Homework will be assigned daily. The homework will not be graded. However, the practice is required in order to more fully understand each topic and to successfully negotiate the guizzes and the exams.

Quizzes

Quizzes will be given and homework collected weekly to assess if the student is practicing and mastering their math skills (doing homework). Questions will be similar to the questions in the assigned homework. No make-up quizzes will be allowed. Fourteen (14) quizzes will be administered, however, only ten (10) quizzes are counted in the one hundred (100) points for the course. The extra four (4) quizzes are built-in extra credit for the student.

Exams*

Exams are used to assess the amount of the course objectives that the student has mastered. The answer boxed will be the answer graded and only one answer will be graded, so the answer seen will be the one graded. Tentative exam dates are noted in the class calendar. Students have the scheduled class time to take exams and the time scheduled by the college to take the final exam. No student will be allowed to begin an exam after the first person has turned in their exam and left the classroom. If the student does poorly on their first exam, they are required to schedule an appointment to discuss their performance with the instructor in their office.

If a student should have to miss an exam, the instructor will consider replacing the missed exam with the final exam score if the following conditions have been met:

- 1. Turn in their syllabus receipt, and
- 2. Notify the instructor before the exam is missed.

Exam Corrections

Students are able to correct one exam (excluding the final exam), of their choice, by the last day of the class (the last class before Final's Week) for seventy-five percent (75%) of their missed points. To complete the exam correction, the student will correct the questions missed on the exam on a different sheet of paper and return the corrections with the original exam.

Final Exam*

There will be a comprehensive final exam at the end of the semester. Failure to attempt the final exam will result in a failing grade for the course. The final exam will be given at the scheduled time determined by South Plains College, not during class time. Conflicts in test schedules should be worked out with individual instructors. A student's library records and all financial records must be clear before the student will be allowed to take final examinations in any course.

^{*} The submission of the syllabus receipt is required.

Expectations of the Instructor

The student is within all rights to expect that the instructor does the following:

- > Show up, as scheduled, to teach all the information pertaining to the course.
- Provide notice of any schedule changes.
- Maximize the time allotted for this course by assessing student aptitude for covered information at the close of each lecture, when time permits.
- Present the material in a manner that can generally be understood by the majority of the class.
- Be accessible to those who need assistance outside of the classroom setting, by way of e-mail or in person, during office hours or reasonably scheduled appointment times.
- Hold to any assignment(s) given during the course of the semester unless removed.
- Uphold the policies of the college as it pertains to the student's welfare in the course.
- Not make any exceptions regarding the dismissal of any student from the course for reasons listed herein.
- Allow each student the opportunity to discuss the material presented during the lecture period.
- Provide examinations based on the information discussed in class that contains problems that use solving methods similar to those assigned from sections pertaining to the exam.

Expectations of the Student

The instructor is within all rights to expect that the student does the following:

- Show up on time, as scheduled, to receive and learn all information pertinent to the course and be mindful of any schedule changes.
- If you are going to withdraw from this course, then all withdrawals must be done by Thursday, 23 April 2020. There will be no withdrawals given after this date.
- READ THE SYLLABUS!!! You will remain subject to the criteria outlined herein whether you read this or not, so it is in your best interest to do so!
- Take advantage of all the resources available to you. In the collegiate setting, all students are considered adults and are expected to uphold conduct worthy of such consideration.
- ➤ Be mindful of the classroom setting and the roles therein. While student tuition is vital to the well-being of this academic institution, this does NOT warrant the concession of an instructor to you in a manner that compromises the integrity of the classroom setting and that of the institution itself.
- Bring all materials needed for the course and refrain from bringing anything that is not needed.
- ➢ Be willing to work together with BUT NOT DO WORK FOR fellow classmates.
- Keep all homework assignments organized in a binder. This will prove to be helpful in preparing for the exams.
- Write all graded work legibly and in pencil only. All work not done in pencil will not be accepted by the instructor and will cause you to receive a grade of zero percent (0%) for the work in question.
- Work homework early enough to get help, if needed.
- Turn all electronic devices off that have no use in the classroom setting. This means all music players, cellular telephones (or cell phones), pagers, etc. In the event that a cell phone must be on (family emergencies only), then the phone must be on vibrate mode and placed on your desk or table. If an unsanctioned device is in use during an exam, then its grade will be zero percent (0%) and possible removal from the course.
- Obtain all missed information and assignments from a fellow classmate. NO LATE WORK will be accepted!!!

^{*} The submission of the syllabus receipt is required.
